THIS MEETING RAISED $40,000
CASH, $40,000 IN PROMISES.

Meeting of the Christian Alliance—One Gift was Real Estate Valued at $30,000.

The annual collection for the benefit of the International Missionary Alliance was made yesterday morning at a Christian Alliance mass meeting held in the American Theatre, at Eighth avenue and Forty-fourth street. The sum of $30,000 was raised for the Alliance. Nearly $40,000 of this was paid in cash. Besides the cash and the pledges, a man, whose name the Alliance people will not divulge, gave some real estate valued at $30,000, according to the donor's statement. The real estate is not included in the $30,000, as the Rev. A. B. Simpson said that he would not overestimate it, than overestimate the amount of the collection.

Large as the sum collected yesterday was, and it far exceeded the expectations of Mr. Simpson and the other Alliance workers, it is small when compared with some of the collections that have been taken by the Alliance. At the International Missionary Alliance, many of the members and friends of the society are wealthy, and contribute regularly and liberally. Each year a Convention is held in the summer. Last summer at Old Orchard $80,000 was contributed, besides real estate of a far greater value.

The contributors give their money and lands either because they believe that the second coming of Christ is near at hand, or as a thank offering to the Lord for deliverance from disease. Divine healing is one of the leading doctrines of the Christian Alliance, of which the International Missionary Alliance is a branch. During the meetings of the Alliance the members testify to their experiences, and many wonderful tales of miraculous deliverance from disease have been told to sympathetic congregations during the past two weeks.

Since Sept. 29 the meetings of the Alliance have been preparing for yesterday's collection. Each day meetings have been held in the Gospel Tabernacle, at Eighth avenue and Forty-fourth street. From 9 o'clock in the morning until 10 or later at night the auditorium has been crowded. Mr. Simpson, the Rev. F. W. Farr, the Rev. A. E. Funk, the Rev. H. Wilson, and half a hundred other ministers and workers have preached and sung. These were always large, and they were enthusiastic. The Alliance is made up of the more emotional members of the Christian churches, who are converted to and converted in the tabernacle. In many cases their conversion began when they were healed by faith.

CAPTURE OF ANTANANARIVO.

French Fighting Preceded the Taking of Madagascar's Capital.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—An official despatch has been received saying that the French fighting preceded the capture of Antananarivo by the French forces. The French lost seven killed and fifty wounded, including four officers. Gen. Duchesne, commanding the French forces in Madagascar, telegraphs that the troops who marched from the coast to the capital had severe engagements with the Hovas Sept. 29 and 30. On the 30th the French attacked the enemy, who had taken up their position in the mountain ridges near Antananarivo. The positions were strongly held, and the French force was divided into two columns under Gens. Metzinger and Veyron. After a hot contest the Hovas were driven out of their position, but still resisted the advance of the French.

The despatch briefly records the progress of the battle until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. Then the enemy's batteries at the palace and at the north and of the capital opened fire on the French. Gen. Duchesne then ordered a general bombardment and sent six columns to attack the town. At this point the Hovas sent messengers to demand a truce. Gen. Duchesne stipulated that the French should occupy the town. This was agreed to, and the occupation was immediately effected.

The royal palace was struck by a shell during the bombardment.

BAVARIA'S GRIEVANCE.

The Reason for Her Sore Feeling Toward the United States.

BREMEN, Oct. 13.—The real reasons why the Bavarian Government ignored the diplomatic influence of the United States in behalf of Mr. Louis Starn of New York have come out. When Mr. Bancroft was United States Minister to Prussia he was at the same time accredited to the Bavarian and Saxon courts. In 1871, when the German empire was formed, Mr. Bancroft secured new credentials to the Emperor of Germany, and when he recalled duly presented his letters of recall to the Emperor.

Mr. Bancroft reminded the State Department at Washington that his letters of appointment to the Kingdom of Bavaria and Württemberg were still in force, and asked permission to present to them also formal letters of recall. The State Department deemed this ceremony needless, and so informed Mr. Bancroft. Mr. Bancroft communicated with the courts at Munich and Stuttgart, informing them why he was obliged to omit the customary diplomatic courtesy. The Bavarian court has ever been a stickler for etiquette, and has always remembered the slight put upon it on that occasion. The United States Embassy here continues to be officially ignorant of the decision in Mr. Starn's case.

REBELLION IN GOA.

Serious Trouble for Portugal in Her Indian Possession.

BOMBAY, Oct. 13.—A serious condition of affairs exists in Goa, the territory in India owned by Portugal. Recently a body of rebels, said to have numbered 1,500, stopped a detachment of Portuguese troops, commanded by a Lieutenant, who were going to San Quilp. Sharp fighting took place, and the rebels were killed. The rebels were in two strong forces, however, for the troops to make a successful resistance, and the latter were finally obliged to surrender. Some of the troops were natives and refused to obey the orders of the Portuguese.

This victory has given prestige to the rebels, and it is thought that many of the disaffected natives will flock to their standard. The Governor of Goa is despatching troops to Agoda, and has arranged for the defence of Panjim. The measures that have been taken are considered to be quite inadequate to suppress the revolt.

LISBON, Oct. 13.—The Government is fully alive to the seriousness of affairs in Goa, and preparations are making to shortly despatch reinforcements to the troops there.

COREA'S QUEEN MURDERED.

The King is a Prisoner and His Father is Dictator.

PARIS, Oct. 13.—The Paris edition of the New York Herald has a despatch from Seoul, the capital of Korea, confirming the reports that the Queen was murdered while the Japanese troops were at the palace gates. There is nothing to support the despatch, adding that the Japanese Minister was aware of the plot. The King is now a prisoner, and his father, the Tai-Won-Tun, the leader of the reactionary element, has been proclaimed dictator. The new Cabinet will be made up of pro-Japanese elements. The Japanese named Sohai has been arrested for the murder of the Queen.

PORTUGAL'S KING.

He May Not Visit Rome on Account of the Pope's Opposition.

ROME, Oct. 13.—There is a strong probability that the protest of the Pope against the proposed visit of King Carlos of Portugal to King Humbert, and the threat of his Holiness to refuse to receive King Carlos should he come to Rome, will be effective to prevent the coming to this city of the Portuguese King.

ITALY'S CROWN PRINCE.

It is Again Said That He May Wed One of the Princesses of Wales.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—A despatch to the Central News from Rome says that in a newspaper interview Signor Lambartini denied the report that the Prince of Naples, the Italian Crown Prince, was betrothed to a Princess of Montenegro. He admitted that the negotiations that had been opened in 1904 for the marriage of the Prince to a daughter of the Prince of Wales had been suspended by mutual agreement, but he said that these negotiations had now been resumed, and that it is probable that the marriage will take place in the spring. The law requires that the Italian Prince shall be Catholic, but their wives may be of any religion.

VIEWS OF THE ANARCHISTS.

They Are Not Favorably Impressed with the Socialist Congress.

BREMEN, Oct. 13.—At a meeting of the anarchists held on the 12th the proceedings of the recent Socialist Congress at Bremen were discussed. Herr Wiese declared that the Socialists had lifted the mask and betrayed their theory and practice were at variance. Where the party's pocket began all other considerations were forgotten.

FATAL TROLLEY WRECK.

THREE PERSONS KILLED AND NINE INJURED IN PITTSBURGH.

The Car Was Coming Down a Hill and the Brake Brake—Plunged Over an Embankment at a Curve at the Foot of the Hill.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 13.—At 6:19 o'clock this evening trolley car No. 53 of the Carnegie branch of the West End Traction Line, under care of Motorman Fred Waddie and Conductor Albert MacGurue, left the track on a curve at the foot of a hill and plunged down a ten-foot embankment, killing three and injuring dozens of other passengers. The car struck with such force as to tear off its top and sides and to rip up its floor.

Its occupants were thrown in every direction, but most seriously hurt and those killed were buried under the wreckage. Those killed were: George Rothmann, aged 60, of Carnegie, a furniture dealer; Fred Hiesel of Hieselburg, aged about 50, a glass worker, for whom Hieselburg was named; unknown woman, whose body is now at the Pittsburgh Morgue; and a black man, and was apparently about 30 years old.

Those injured were: Prof. Alexander Phillips of Cranston; Henry Stills, aged 17; Michael Foley, a saloon keeper, of 170 West Main street; Mrs. Foley, Michael's wife, who died; James Foley, their seven-year-old son; Albert MacGurue, the conductor; Fred Waddie, the motorman, shoulder dislocated; Mrs. Leach, 2,007 Penn avenue.

There were several others who received slight injuries. Three boys, who were standing on the platform, succeeded in jumping off without injury. There were sixteen passengers aboard as nearly as it is known. The car was city bound, and left the car at 6 P. M. and Cranston at 6:19 o'clock. The car was coming down the crest of the steep hill on Stephen street. In going down the hill the brake broke and the car ran down the hill at a great rate of speed. With increasing velocity it struck the curve. Conductor MacGurue opened the door for the passengers to throw themselves down on the floor, and he set the car on its side.

The car dashed upon the curve. There was a creaking of the trucks, a swaying of the car, and then it plunged down the embankment. At one bound it dashed over a ten-foot embankment. Down this the car plunged, reaching the bottom in a few seconds and coming to a complete stop. There was silence, then the moans of the wounded and the shouts for aid were heard. It was then that Conductor MacGurue rushed to the front of the car, and tried to drag himself from the wreck, and badly wounded as he was, he ran to some neighboring houses and secured help and aid. In these he began the work of rescue. Others helped him, and soon the dead and wounded were taken out.

A TALK WITH THE SULTAN.

He Protests Against the Rebellious Attitude of the Armenians.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—The Standard publishes a Constantinople despatch saying that Sir Philip Currie, the British Ambassador, had an interview with the Sultan. The Sultan, it is said, expressed his protest against the rebellious attitude of the Armenians, who, he declared, seemed bent at all hazards on pushing the patience of the Turks beyond endurance.

The despatch adds that there seems to be a general reaction against granting the reforms demanded for Armenia, based largely on dislike to appearing to admit that the Armenians were justified in provoking the recent riots.

In addition to the surveys that will be made by the British, the Sultan has ordered the King and Washington streets at 2 o'clock yesterday morning. He ran down King street in the direction of the cries for help. In the center of the block a man lay flat on his back on the sidewalk, held by the throat by a second. The man who was being robbed was John Kilroy, 38 years old, an older on the steamship St. Louis. The men who were robbing him were Sylvester Fox, 36 years old, and Edward Fox, 36 years old, both of whom said they lived on the corner of 121st Street and 122nd Street. They were drinking and he was on his way to the steamship when he was attacked. As he was too weak to walk to the station he was taken to the police station.

Kilroy and Fox were arraigned before Magistrate Keweneworth in Jefferson Market Court yesterday, and held in $1,000 bail each for trial. The charge was that of robbing a person on a highway.

Berg was coupling up his checks, while his barbers were shaving two customers. Two other men were sitting at the bar. When the captain had closed up at 1 o'clock, he said to the barbers, "me shafe 'em," and they began to shave. "Don't the police make you close up at 1?" asked Berg. "I don't care for the police," said Berg. "I don't care for the police," said Berg. "I don't care for the police," said Berg.

SOME FENDERS SAFE, SOMETIMES.

Four-Year-Old Alice Lawson Wants Her Brother.

Mrs. Lawson of 335 Bedford street, Jersey City, went out yesterday afternoon to visit a friend. She had an infant in her arms, and her four-year-old daughter, Alice, toddled along a few feet behind her. Mrs. Lawson, on reaching Newark avenue, saw a trolley car approaching and hurried across the street. Her child went to the trolley car and was taken into it. Mrs. Lawson saw the child alone in front of the car and started to run. She ran back again, and finally she was picked up by the trolley car. The trolley car was No. 7 of the Newark Turnpike line. The motorman lifted the child out of the trolley car and turned her over to her mother. She was not even bruised, but it was some time before she recovered from her fright.

U. S. CONSUL NOT AROUND.

Steamer Strabo Had to Leave Santos with a British Ship in Her Place.

The Lamport and Holt steamer Strabo, which arrived yesterday from Santos, Victoria and St. Lucia, was detained at Santos by Health Officer Doty because the Captain failed to produce a bill of health from Santos. In explanation Capt. Jardine said that when his vessel was ready for the trip, as the United States Consul in Santos for the usual bill of health, but the Consul was absent, and the health of the Consul was not in his absence. As the Consul had been absent for three days, and nothing could be learned about the time of his return, Capt. Jardine applied to the British Consul, who issued a bill of health. On the advice of his agents, Capt. Jardine procured an endorsement of the leading American merchants at Santos stating the facts of the case and proceeded on his voyage.

The laws of the State of New York, as well as the Federal law, require that masters of vessels shall bring bills of health from the port of call. Failure to do this is a fine of $5,000 for failure to do this. After investigation the health officer held a report on the Strabo, a statement concerning the absence of the United States Consul was corroborated by the master of the Strabo, who said that the Consul was absent for three days, and as the bill of health of that vessel was clean, the Strabo was released.

RENOUNCES THE ROMAN FAITH.

The Rev. Dr. Vanoli Appears at Ex-Præst O'Connor's Mission.

The Rev. Dr. Anicetus Vanoli, who is said to be a graduate of the College of the Propaganda at Rome, and formerly a priest of the Missionary Society of the Propaganda, formally renounced allegiance to the Roman Catholic faith last night at Ex-Præst O'Connor's mission at 143 West Twenty-first street.

The ex-priest, when he introduced the convert to the congregation, displayed a number of documents, which he said were Dr. Vanoli's credentials, and informed those present that the doctor desired them and there to renounce Catholicism and join the seekers of salvation. Dr. Vanoli said in French that his heart had never been in the Roman religion; that from the time he was ordained he felt he was a hypocrite, as he professed to believe and taught what he did not have faith in. A year ago he made up his mind to quit the Church.

Behind the inspector followed some of Col. Waring's men with a truck, which they had loaded with milk. They were directed to the milk wagons, while the inspector went into Thomas's place and told him where he could recover the wagons.

INDIANA KEPT OUT OF THE GALE.

The Battle Ship Did Not Go to Sea Yesterday, as Was Expected.

DELAWARE BREAKWATER, Del., Oct. 13.—The battle ship Indiana did not go to sea this afternoon, as was expected, but at 10 o'clock to-night was still anchored at The Brown, an anchorage a few miles above here. Since early yesterday morning a northeast gale had been blowing along the coast. This wind kicks up an ugly sea along the north Atlantic seaboard, and as the Indiana is a battleship, it is likely to prove a wet sea boat in heavy weather. It is probable the comfort of those aboard was considered, and it was decided to remain within the cape until the gale ended.

The Indiana now cannot reach Boston before late Tuesday afternoon, instead of early Tuesday morning, as was expected. The weather is clearing to-night and the wind moderating.

INVENTOR POPE KILLED.

THE WELL-KNOWN ELECTRICIAN A VICTIM OF ELECTRICITY.

To Facilitate the Operations of an Electric Plant Five Miles Away He Had Placed a Powerful Converter in His Cellar—Found Dead by His Family Beside It.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Oct. 13.—Franklin Leonard Pope was instantly killed by a shock of 3,000 volts in the cellar of his house this evening. He was the manager of the Great Harrington Electric Light Company, the principal buildings of which are at Housatonic, five miles north of here.

To facilitate the operations of the plant, he had placed in his cellar a large and powerful converter. When the power was turned on this evening he visited the cellar to adjust the machinery.

His family up stairs heard a heavy fall, and upon investigation found Mr. Pope dead on the floor beside the converter. Doctors say death was instantaneous.

Mr. Pope was born in Great Barrington in 1840, and was among the earliest electrical engineers in the country. During the draft riots in New York City in 1862, while he was in the engineer's office of the American Telegraph Company, he helped join together the New York and Boston wires that had been broken by a mob. In 1865 he explored the Slickton River country of British Columbia and Alaska, and surveyed a route for the Collins overland telegraph, which was subsequently partly built and then abandoned.
